Dear Mr. Degkwitz:

Thank you for giving us an opportunity to see your work. The fact is, however, that we have a staff of artists who have been doing our cover portraits for some time and have little need for additional artists.

We do sometimes go afield to commission new and different artists for particular cover portraits, but only when there is a special connection with the subject we are about to feature. As this is the situation, we cannot be encouraging to you despite the quality of your work.

We appreciate your interest in our magazine and wish you luck.

Yours truly,

Rosemary Frank
